A new proposal was issued this summer from the IRS affecting how and when the issue price of tax-exempt bonds is calculated. Will this added regulation serve as a disincentive to players in the bond field? Or could it allow for more versatility between public and private sector participants? During this installment of the CDFA // BNY Mellon Development Finance Webcast Series, hear our expert panel discuss the proposal and explain how this could change issuances going forward. Issuers, underwriters, advisors are encouraged to join this important conversation in advance of the IRS public hearing on the topic scheduled for later this month.
