

Bond Case Briefs

Municipal Finance Law Since 1971

---

- MSRB: New Compliance Advisory Available.
- Dealer Groups Want SEC to Disapprove MA Conduct Rule.
- Moberly, Missouri Class-Action Highlights Underwriters' Duties in Muni Offerings.
- NABL: Transportation Bill Allows Tax-Exempt Bonds for WIFIA.
- San Diegans for Open Government v. City of San Diego – Court of Appeal holds that city redevelopment agency's successor agency – a joint powers authority formed by the city, the redevelopment agency, and the city housing authority – had the authority to enter into a lease-back financing plan adopted to fund public infrastructure improvements.
- And finally, we received proof this week that the plaintiff in Not Afraid v. State – Mr. Cyril Not Afraid, Jr. – is perhaps taking his name a bit too literally. We'd advise remaining afraid of the following: climbing into cars driven by the highly intoxicated; driving 73 mph down a winding mountain road with a posted speed limit of 25 mph; letting that whole seat belt thing slip one's mind; concrete guardrails; windshields; the structural integrity of one's spinal column. In hindsight, probably should have been afraid of those.

Copyright © 2026 Bond Case Briefs | bondcasebriefs.com