Masters of the Muniverse: New York City and the Market's Future - Bloomberg Podcast

New York's shifting political environment has significant implications for the city's finances and municipal bond portfolios. In this episode of the Masters of the Muniverse podcast, Pat Luby, head of municipal research and senior municipal strategist at CreditSights, joins Bloomberg Intelligence's Matthew Gastall, head of municipal research and strategy, and BI senior associate Karen Altamirano. Luby also shares his views on the growing importance of muni ETFs, new-issue volume trends, and what they could mean for issuers and investors. Listen to this episode on Apple Podcasts and Spotify.
