S&P: Various Ratings On U.S. Local Governments Affirmed, Removed From CreditWatch Negative On Receipt Of Financial Data

CHICAGO (S&P Global Ratings) April 30, 2026-S&P Global Ratings affirmed its ratings on various U.S. local governments (see list below) and removed them from CreditWatch, where they were placed with negative implications on March 6, 2026. The ratings are unchanged, and the outlook on all ratings is stable.

The removal from CreditWatch and the assigning of a stable outlook reflects our receipt and review of financial information, including 2024 financial statements, from these issuers. Following our review of the updated financial information, we affirmed our various long-term ratings on these issuers.

For more information on our need for timely information, see “Various Ratings Withdrawn On 70 U.S. Public Finance Issuers Due To Lack Of Timely Information,” April 8, 2026, and “How Quality And Timeliness Of Information Are Incorporated Into U.S. Public Finance’s Rating Process,” Dec. 6, 2021.
