Bond Case Briefs

Municipal Finance Law Since 1971

Brightline West Moves Ahead With New Railway Infrastructure Contracts.

Takeaways by Bloomberg AI

- High-speed railway Brightline West has signed new contracts to lay tracks and systems for its high-speed railway, signaling progress for the project.
- The railroad is in final negotiations on the last three of nine total infrastructure contracts for the $21.5 billion project, which will travel between Southern California and Las Vegas.
- Brightline West has until Aug. 1 to raise $400 million in equity to continue construction, and is granting bondholders new warrants in exchange for extending a deadline.

Continue reading.

Bloomberg Industries

By Martin Z Braun

June 8, 2026