Bond Case Briefs

Municipal Finance Law Since 1971

Largest Private School Bond Deal in Two Years Hits Muni Market.

Takeaways by Bloomberg AI

- The Colburn School is planning to borrow $117 million in the municipal bond market to fund the construction of a performing arts center.
- The proceeds will be used to fund the ongoing construction of the school's performing arts center and repay $65.5 million of existing debt.
- The new center will include a 1,000-seat concert hall, a convertible 100-seat dance studio theater, and other facilities, with a total cost estimated to be $337 million.

Continue reading.

Bloomberg Markets

By Erin Hudson

August 10, 2026