The National Conference for Public-Private Partnerships.

Boston, MA July 20-22, 2015

P3 Connect 2015 — the National Conference for Public-Private Partnerships — quickly has become the premier event for public-sector officials and private-sector innovators focused on advancing P3s nationwide. Last year, P3 Connect attracted more than 250 attendees, representing more than 100 public and private sector organizations. P3 Connect 2015 promises to be bigger and better.

P3 Connect 2015 continues NCPPP's 30-year tradition of serving as the foremost educational organization on P3s and the convening point for moving P3s forward.

NEW FOR 2015: INTRODUCTION TO P3 BOOTCAMP

Introduction to P3 Bootcamp is an introductory-level workshop for public and private sector representatives who are interested in P3s but may be unfamiliar with how they work. Workshop faculty will cover: how P3s differ from traditional privatization and procurement; alternative P3 structures; use of P3s for financing projects; identification and allocation of risks; understanding what P3s can and cannot help communities accomplish; and how to develop and maintain a productive partnership.

Introduction to P3 Bootcamp will take place on Monday, July 20th from 9:00AM – 12:00PM.

If you are interested in participating in the Introduction to P3 Bootcamp, at no additional charge, be sure to select the Bootcamp checkbox on the second page of the online registration form.
