Wedbush Securities, Inc. v. City of Seattle

Court of Appeals of Washington, Division 1 - August 10, 2015 - P.3d - 2015 WL 4726868

Registered securities broker sought review of decision of hearing examiner upholding city's business and occupation (B&O) tax assessment. The Superior Court affirmed. Broker appealed.

The Court of Appeals held that because broker's service income was derived from customer contacts by telephone and the Internet, the entire amount was subject to B&O tax.
