

Bond Case Briefs

Municipal Finance Law Since 1971

- DOL Fiduciary Rule Gets It Half Right On the Municipal Bond Market.
- MSRB Reminds Municipal Securities Dealers of July 18, 2016 Effective Date of Changes to Trade Reporting Requirements.
- P3s and Tax-Exempt Bonds: Butler Snow
- Bonus Yields Found in Muni-Bond Niche Tax-Free to Most Americans.
- Recent IRS Private Letter Ruling Provides Helpful Guidance on Management Contracts: Squire Patton Boggs
- Comparing Financing Structures for Student Housing.
- Indian River County v. Rogoff - District Court holds that counties lacked standing to challenge DOT's issuance of PABs based on alleged harms arising from construction and operation of railway.
- And finally, Location, Location, Location! is brought to us this week by City of Dallas v. Sanchez, in which the City of Dallas received two virtually simultaneous 911 calls from the same apartment complex regarding a drug overdose. The City promptly dispatched an ambulance, which dealt with the situation and left the premises. All well and good, unless you're the other drug overdose victim left there to die. Oops. Depending on one's personal proclivities, either the best - or worst - apartment complex of all time. We'll let you decide. Word has it there's an opening.