- And finally, Huggies on Conveyance (2nd ed.) this week brings you City of Jackson v. Jordan, in which the Supreme Court of Mississippi informs us that, “An infant’s avoidance of a conveyance of property may be evidenced by any act clearly demonstrating a renunciation of the contract.” We would now like to invite you to close your eyes and envision the infantile act your particular infant would use to demonstrate the renunciation of a contract. Your tool kit includes – but is certainly not limited to – soggy diapers, crayon fragments, curdled mush, miscellaneous choking hazards, regurgitated peas, and a Black’s Law Dictionary covered in drool. Enjoy!
