S&P: Third Quarter of 2016 Marks 16 Straight Months of More U.S. Public Finance Rating Upgrades than Downgrades.

In this CreditMatters TV segment, Larry Witte, Senior Director with Global Fixed Income Research, discusses recent findings for the third quarter of 2016, which marked 16 straight months in which there were more upgrades than downgrades. The downward trend for state ratings continued, however, with two downgrades compared to one upgrade.
