New Issue Calendar Coming to EMMA.

Beginning in January 2017, the Electronic Municipal Market Access (EMMA®) website will provide free, convenient access to a new issue calendar enabling individual investors, issuers and other market participants to see new bond issues coming to market as well as final pricing scales for bond issues sold through competitive and negotiated sales.

Individual investors can use the calendar to locate upcoming bond offerings of interest. The new issue calendar provides issuers that may be planning on issuing a new security the ability to identify, monitor and compare prices of similar issues that are coming to market or have been recently sold. The Municipal Securities Rulemaking Board (MSRB) is providing the calendar to help all market participants make decisions that are right for them.
