

Bond Case Briefs

Municipal Finance Law Since 1971

---

LIABILITY - GEORGIA

Mayor of Garden City v. Harris

Supreme Court of Georgia - January 29, 2018 - S.E.2d - 2018 WL 575988

Parents, individually and on behalf of their minor daughter, brought action against city, alleging premises liability, negligence, and negligence per se.

City moved for summary judgment. The State Court denied motion. City appealed. The Court of Appeals affirmed. Certiorari was granted.

The Supreme Court of Georgia held that under Recreational Property Act, landowner remains free from liability to any person injured on property who has been allowed to use property for recreational purposes free of charge.