

Bond Case Briefs

Municipal Finance Law Since 1971

How Trump Plans to Turn $200 Billion Into $1.5 Trillion in Infrastructure Spending.

President Trump's long-awaited infrastructure plan proposes that the federal government put up $200 billion in incentives and investments over 10 years, leaving state and local governments and private industry to come up with the rest.

Here's a look at how the plan may pan out, and what the challenges will be in turning $200 billion into $1.5 trillion.

Continue reading.

THE NEW YORK TIMES

By KEITH COLLINS and PATRICIA COHEN

FEB. 12, 2018

Copyright © 2024 Bond Case Briefs | bondcasebriefs.com