

Bond Case Briefs

Municipal Finance Law Since 1971

---

- Ed. Note: We will be off next Tuesday (4/1) (El Cap!) and will return with a double dose of drivel on Wednesday, May 8.
- NFMA Recommended Best Practices in Disclosure for Water and Sewer Bonds.
- EPA Taking WIFIA Loan Applications.
- Boston's New Site Aimed at Municipal Bond Investors is Powered by Local Startup BondLink.
- SIFMA: Draft FAQs Regarding Rule G-42 and the Making of Recommendations.
- BDA Submits Comment Letter: MSRB Seeks Input on a Compliance Resource to Help Distinguish Advice and Recommendations \(Rule G-42\).
- Commentary: Muni Industry Best Served by Wider Acceptance of Group Net Syndication Rule.
- BOKF, NA v. Estes - District Court holds that bank - that had served as indenture trustee for a series of allegedly fraudulent conduit municipal bond offerings for the purchase and renovation of senior living facilities - was subject to FINRA arbitration in action brought by bondholders. See also, Compelling a Muni Indenture Trustee to Arbitrate Before FINRA: Kramer Levin
- Weiss v. People ex rel. Department of Transportation - Court of Appeal holds that procedure for pretrial resolution of issues affecting the determination of compensation in eminent domain cases does not apply to inverse condemnation actions.
- And finally, Other Than That, Mrs. Lincoln, How Was the Play? is brought to us this week by Hubacz v. Village of Waterbury, in which a cop happily copped to "cheating on a police exam, insurance fraud, taking uniforms from a prior employer, failure to report income on his tax returns, and impersonating a police officer for discounts and to intimidate high school classmates" but was unable to draw a causal link between these acts and his ongoing right to protect and serve. The court's opinion failed to mention it, but we're quite sure he received a warm and heartfelt send-off from said high school classmates.