

Bond Case Briefs

Municipal Finance Law Since 1971

- IRS Tax Exempt & Government Entities - Compliance Program and Priorities
- New IRS Priorities Include Student Loan Bonds, Form 8038-G.
- Cash-Flooded Muni Market Beats Treasuries by Most Since 2009.
- Interesting eminent domain case from Massachusetts here.
- Case concerning distribution of TIF proceeds from Idaho here.
- FINRA Requests Comment on Proposed Amendments to the Margin Rule Regarding When Issued and Other Extended Settlement Transactions.
- Biden's Script for the American Jobs Plan and a Leading Role Goes to Infrastructure - What Does that Mean For Transportation? Squire Patton Boggs \(and Friends\) Will Tell You THURSDAY!
- And finally, Tempest In That Spinny Little Kiddie Amusement Park Ride is brought to us this week by Carollo v. Platinum Advisors, LLC, in which litigation ensued from comments made by city commissioner at a public discussion conducted by the city commission regarding the economic benefits of a proposed petroleum refinery. Well that certainly sounds like the type of project that would elicit strong emotions, both pro and con. Wait, it wasn't a refinery? A wastewater treatment plant? A coal-fired electric facility? Nope. A ferris wheel. A frickin' ferris wheel. When jokes concerning circular arguments, revolutionary litigation, etc. are too corny even for us, you're looking at some serious punishment. Oh well, what goes around comes around.