Municipal Finance Law Since 1971

- Moving on from LIBOR (Update) - Squire Patton Boggs
- FINRA Proposes Amendments to Margin Requirement Rules. (See section entitled “New Exceptions for US Treasury and Municipal Securities”)
- Firm Settles FINRA Charges for Placing “Throw-Away” Bids.
- GASB Proposes to Rename the Comprehensive Annual Financial Report.
- And finally, Well That Hardly Seems Sporting is brought to us this week by Seattle Police Department v. Seattle Police Officers’ Guild, in which a patrol officer “punched a handcuffed woman in the face hard enough to cause an orbital fracture.” The officer’s union gamely defended him (natch), arguing that he had acted “perhaps reflexively” and that his “patience was being tried.” Well in that case... We highly recommend suggesting - and honoring - these defenses when your little brats (inevitably) come to blows. Might we suggest an alternate line of work?
