S&P RFC Process Summary: Methodology For Rating U.S. Public Finance Mortgage Revenue Bond Programs

On Dec. 1, 2021, S&P Global Ratings published a request for comment (RFC) on its proposed criteria, "Request For Comment: Methodology For Rating U.S. Public Finance Mortgage Revenue Bond Programs." Following feedback from market participants, we finalized and published our criteria on Oct. 10, 2022 (see "Methodology For Rating U.S. Public Finance Mortgage Revenue Bond Programs").

We'd like to thank market participants who provided feedback. This RFC Process Summary provides an overview of the external written comments and certain other feedback we received from the market on the proposed criteria, the significant analytical changes, if any, we made following the RFC period, and the rationale for those changes.
