CDFA Food Systems Finance Webinar Series: Bonds & Food Systems

Tuesday, February 28, 2023 | 2:00 PM - 3:30 PM Eastern

Food system businesses need access to capital at an affordable price, while investors expect a return on their investments. Few financing tools meet both of these needs as well as bonds, a longstanding staple of public development finance that offers flexible, low-cost capital for the borrower and tax-free returns for the investor. During this installment of the CDFA Food Systems Finance Webinar Series, we take a deeper look at a method of financing that has been building infrastructure, industry, and agriculture for over a century and explore its applications within the food system.

Moderator:

Angela Blatt, Director, Research & Technical Assistance, Council of Development Finance Agencies

Speaker:

Rodney Wendt, Executive Director, Washington Economic Development Finance Authority
