Bond Case Briefs

Municipal Finance Law Since 1971

---

Florida’s DeSantis Pushes Unusual Plan to Abolish Property Taxes.

Florida has no income tax, and now Governor Ron DeSantis is pushing a plan to eliminate the state’s property levies as well.

On Thursday, DeSantis again raised the idea of abolishing property taxes or rolling them back significantly, saying that Florida residents need relief — a message he has repeated in recent weeks.

“Property tax says that you never really own your property, because you have to pay rent to the government,” DeSantis said at a press conference, criticizing local governments for swelling their coffers with revenue from the state’s booming real estate market.

Continue reading.

Bloomberg Politics

By Anna J Kaiser

February 27, 2025

Copyright © 2026 Bond Case Briefs | bondcasebriefs.com