

Bond Case Briefs

Municipal Finance Law Since 1971

- NFMA Releases Draft Recommended Best Practices in Disclosure for Special Property Tax and Special Assessment Debt Transactions. Comments Due Oct 15.
- . Kutak Rock: Recent Activity on the Hill Highlights Opportunities for Tax-Exempt Bonds
- Can Investors Price the Risk? Assessing Municipal Bond Climate Disclosure and Financial Resilience.
- How State Legislatures, Attorneys General and Foreign Regulators are Rewriting the Rules on Climate Disclosure.
- It's Election Season: Investment Advisers Beware of the SEC Pay-to-Play Rule
- And Finally, When Pyromaniac Scriveners Attack is brought to us by City of Hopewell v. Shree Arihant Motel, Inc., in which, "The City Council advised building officials to begin planning the controlled burn and pursue a written contract with [shopping center owner] concerning the demolition of the property. The City Council's clerk, however, erroneously recorded that the City Council voted to BURN THE SHOPPING CENTER" (emphasis added). So they did. Which we can all agree is a definitive outcome. While there is much to be said for skipping that whole planning and contracting tedium and just getting on with it, perhaps this particular clerk should be kept away from the Criminal Division. Not so sure I'd want my last words to be, "I just came to pay my parking ticket..." as the needle goes in.