Bond Case Briefs

Municipal Finance Law Since 1971

Google Parent Plans $1.5 Billion Prepaid Energy Deal via Goldman.

Takeaways by Bloomberg AI

- Alphabet Inc. is in the municipal bond market with a $1.5 billion prepaid energy deal, to be issued by the California Community Choice Financing Authority.
- The deal allows Central Coast Community Energy to secure a discounted supply of electricity, with Alphabet receiving proceeds of the bond sale upfront in exchange for making periodic payments.
- Alphabet is the first technology company to publicly participate in prepaid deals as a funding recipient, with the sector seeing about $36.5 billion in issuance so far this year.

Continue reading.

Bloomberg Technology

By Erin Hudson

November 3, 2026

Copyright © 2026 Bond Case Briefs | bondcasebriefs.com